Propane Tank Proposed

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
AUGUST 21, 1990-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

A license for the installation of a 30,000 gallon above ground liquified propane storage tank (LP) requested by Dennis Mahoney and Sons was placed on hold until representative David J. McIntire returns to the Selectmen's meeting on September 25th with more definitive plans. The tank would be located north of Industrial Drive on the Mahoney property.

Following a description of the proposal by Mr. McIntire and remarks by Ms. JoAnn Robidoux of ComElectric, an abutter, Fire Chief Donald C. Wood and Thomas Brownell of Brownell Boat Works, also an

Mr. Brownell said he is concerned with safety considering the closeness of the office with six people working there. "There is going to be sparks because of static electricity. Trucks have to come in under the wires and trucks will have some potential problems unless they are grounded properly. Human error can cause problems. Personally, I'd feel better if the tank was away from the people."

Ms. Robidoux said construction trucks going under the wire can cause a blowout even if the wire isn't touched. "We've seen this happen", she added. The Com-Electric Company representative said "we have specific guidelines to follow for safety measures. Anything metal has to be grounded."

Ms. Robidoux presented a letter from ComElectric's Chief Right of Way Agent Richard F. Withington which read: "Com-Electric Company is an abutter to the proposed location of the LP storage tank with a 100 foot wide electric transmission line right-of-way. We have no objection to the proposed storage tank provided specific considerations are realized by the applicant."

The considerations include: locate access driveway closer to a certain pole noted by the company to maximize clearance to the line; induced voltages in the transfer facility must be considered for safety reasons, such as adequate grounding/bonding of tank, vehicles and transfer equipment to prevent arcing is necessary; grounding of the fence should be adequate to prevent shock hazard from induced voltage; any orientation of the main storage tank at right angles to the right-of-way would minimize induced voltage on the tank; all induced voltage/grounding calculations should allow for the possible construction of a 115KV line along the adjacent right-of-way as well as additional 12.2KV lines; potential rise from adjacent line faults should also be considered.

Mr. McIntire said "We are concerned - it's natural to be concerned." He noted he had contacted the National Pyrofax people asking about "horror stories with pyrofax gas" and they told him they have had no problems.

Fire Chief Wood said the state fire marshall said it is up to the local authorities to approve the tank installation. "I've seen the plans, and I know just about what they are going to do. I have no objection if everything is done by law and safety concerns are addressed. If approved, I will supervise when the tank goes up, then I will check on the brush around the tank to be sure there is no hazard of a forest fire jumping to the tank. I don't know now just which way the tank will go, but the original plans are okay with me."

The Chief noted the tanks are made to withstand gun shots. If a fire should start, the best way to handle it is to cool the tank down from as far away as possible and to let the fire burn out. That's why it's important to keep the stones around the tank to prevent brush from growing to create a potential fire hazard.

Mr. McIntire explained the license would be for a 30,000 gallon tank above ground for liquified propane gas. He said Thompson Engineers took measurements and determined a 50 foot setback would be needed. "We have to get permission from ComElectric to cross their property. The tank will be 66 feet long and approximately nine feet in diameter, about 11 to 13 feet tall. The storage tank will be reached by a driveway access."

Mr. McIntire said he had no problem with returning on September 25th with more specifics and will work with ComElectric to arrange for the best location for all concerned.

A letter was read from Universal Industries, Inc., an abutter, who expressed no problem with the request, only that it be done with safety in mind.

all the bids received for the harbormaster's boat, trailer and motor were rejected as being too high or not what the harbormaster can use. The committee agreed to rethink the bid process and have the bids readvertised with a wider circulation. There was also some discussion, Mr. Talty reported, on spending the money to repair the wharves rather than for a boat.

Mr. Talty said the Harbor Committee agreed to place an article in the October special town meeting for state house notes to borrow money to repair the wharves. Money to make the loan payments will come from the Enterprise Fund, which must be approved by voters, but will not come from the taxes. The committee received an offer from an interested person willing to donate his expertise in marine work to advise the committee on the wharf repairs. This volunteer estimated the cost to repair one wharf at $300,000.

AGREED TO PLACE an article in the October special town meeting for the sum of $1,500 for Mattapoisett to host this year's November Veterans' Day Parade. Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta said "somehow this sum wasn't included in the annual budget." Every third year Mattapoisett hosts the parade, with Wareham and Marion hosting the other years.

Enrollment is open to all children from Marion, Mattapoisett, and Rochester who will be four years old by May 31, 1991. Two slots for Mattapoisett students remain unfilled at this time. Preference will be given to children from low-income families and others in need as determined by the Early Childhood Advisory Council.

REASSURANCE PROGRAM FOR SENIORS

Any senior living alone should be a part of the "Reassurance" program. If you are not, please call the Council on Aging office (758-4110). We have a simple form to be completed and we will gladly assist you if necessary.

This is how the program works:

Any elder can call 758-4141 between the hours of 6:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m. to let the Police Department know that all is well. If no call is received by 10:00 a.m. the police will then try to call you. If there is no response after several tries, they will send a patrol car to check on your well-being.

Many seniors worry about forgetting to call in each morning. You need not worry, it gets to be part of your daily routine. Please consider taking advantage of this

INTO FAMILY EYE CARE

I've never had vision problems, but recently I'm having difficulty reading well up close. Why should this happen?

This is a problem very frequently encountered by people from age 40 on. What happens is that they lose their accommodating ability to change focal points from distance to near. The lens in the eye stiffens up as we progress in age and what happens is that it normally fixes itself at a distant focal length.

When this happens we need a little help to see up close and this is where a half eye or a bifocal would come in handy. Once you notice you are having problems you should make it a point to see an eye doctor.

Ms. Louise Hague, teacher in the L.I.F.T. program in the Mattapoisett elementary schools, recently participated in Confratute '90, the international conference/institute on educating gifted and talented children and youth held July 16-17 at the University of Connecticut.

Now in its 13th consecutive year, Confratute, sponsored jointly by the Special Education Center, the School of Education, at the University of Connecticut and the Connecticut State Department of Education, has distinguished itself as one of the world's most definitive conferences/institutes on gifted education. A primary feature of Confratute is the converging prominent leaders in the field upon a single site for two weeks to interact and consult with teachers, administrators and parents eager to learn about exceptionally able youngsters. ORR Girls Track

Two Old Rochester Girls' Track Athletes were selected as "Rookie of the Year" because of their talent and contributions they made during their freshman year.

Danielle Cook stepped onto the Track as ORR's number one sprinter. Not only was that true, but she was only second to one other girl in the South Coast Conference. Danielle took awards at Freshman-Sophomore Invitationals, State Meets, and qualified to go to the National Track Meet in New York. During the trials of the 100 Meters, Danielle advanced to the top twelve in the Semi-Tiffany Jawor is the pure thrower. She has stood out from day one as an excellent Discus and Shot Putter. This spring season Tiffany won many medals as a thrower in many top Invitational and State Meets. She also qualified for the National Track Meet. In New York Tiffany took sixth place in the Discus with a throw of 104'11". She was a dominant force in the South Coast Conference and was recognized by the coaches in the league. Tiffany has thrown the Shot Put over 35 feet and the Discus over 115 feet.

Former Principal Joe Kobak and former student Douglas Crabbe.

Eugene Kennedy, their sixth grade teacher.

Recently out of the service, Kennedy had received a call while in Alaska. There was a sixth grade class waiting for him in Mattapoisett. Although he hesitated, the GI bonus added to the meager salary was enticement enough. The year was 1956. Ike and Adlai were running what in those days was a heated campaign. The sixth grade classroom was fired up by posters on all four walls with Kennedy's predictions for Senate and House races as well as for the Presidency, and even for the Electoral College votes. From today's vantage point, the outcome was less important than the enthusiasm for learning, the challenge to think, and the opportunity to debate and discuss, all of which occurred under the guise of "social studies".

The idea to have this reunion began the day after last year's Thanksgiving snowstorm when former student Andrea Boardman visited Mr. Kennedy and found that not only had he been unable to attend a family dinner, but that in his retirement he was losing touch with his former students. Andrea contacted classmate Attorney Robert Moore, and asked for his assistance in tracking down people for a summer reunion (a good request to make of a former detective). In the ensuing months 63 students were located, including members of what became the 1960 Center School class.

As the date approached, Deborah Nash Sienkiewicz, Penny Field Hiller and Roxanne Stanley Nicewicz joined in the search and the planning. Through letters and telephone calls people started responding enthusiastically to the invitations.

After 34 years the memories were still so strong that classmates traveled from the Midwest, the Southwest, the Atlantic seaboard and even from Canada to meet one more time. Fifty-four former students, spouses, children and other faculty walked down the beach road and through the trees on this foggy summer night, laden with food, photographs and memories to share.

There was a mixture of eagerness and awkwardness, which quickly turned into hugs and squeals of recognition, to the point that even past midnight at least half of the group still lingered, unwilling to let the moment slip away too quickly. The encounters were humorous and touching. While one talked of being the new father of an 18-month old, another shyly but proudly announced his sixth grandchild would soon be born. Years of guarded images were revealed, and some even corrected. Comments like "When we were in sixth grade, you were my role model" met responses like "If you only knew how awkward I really felt". By now, Republicans had become Democrats and vice versa. Careers had taken many paths, doctor, lawyer, firefighter, nurse, teacher, television producer, artist, horticulturist, carpenter, mechanic, builder, homemaker, boat builder, writer, restaurateur, musician, college administrator and many other vocations were represented.

Yet, in spite of the diversity of present life and career situations there was a bond from another time which had its roots inside the red brick walls of Center School. In perspective, it had been a time of national shifting. The stage was being set for what would be the challenges of the 60s and beyond. It had also been a time when a young teacher, new to his profession, had prepped and prodded his young charges to think for themselves and to think broadly, beyond New England, beyond the U.S. For many of us it was when we began to sense what it meant to be a part of a larger whole. This was a message that continues to serve us well. A message that was powerful enough to draw us back together from so many parts of the country.

Unitarian Society of Fairhaven

CHURCH SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 9

The Unitarian Universalist approach to religious education for children, youth and adults reflects a commitment to freedom of belief and a continuous search for truth. Inspiration from all the world's religious, as well as humanist teachings, science and the personal experience of mystery and wonder are the basis for church school and adult education programs.

Beginning Sunday, September 9th, at 10:30 a.m. classes will be offered for toddlers through teens in the Harrop Center at the Unitarian Memorial Church in Fairhaven. Using songs, stories, games, discussions, arts and crafts, and celebrations, children will have an opportunity to ask their own religious questions, evolve a sense of ethics, learn how to appreciate and deal with life issues, and develop their own beliefs. This fall, the elementary groups will focus on peace and justice, fairness and conflict resolution.

For more information and registration, call Lisa Elliott, Director of Religious Education, at 992-7081. The Reverend Robert A. Thayer is Minister; Kathy Reed is Youth Advisor.

Art Buchwald at Fundraiser

The first ever fund-raising event held by the Coalition for Buzzards Bay, sparked by Art Buchwald's presence, netted approximately $10,000, announces Shirley N. Schlothauer, president of the Coalition's Board of Directors. Mrs. Schlothauer, a Westport resident, and Katharine Bullard of South Dartmouth were co-chairs for the August 16th event, "Supper by the Sea", held on the lawn of the Massachusetts Maritime Academy.

"We are extremely grateful to Mr. Buchwald for leaving his oasis on Martha's Vineyard to spend an evening with us to dramatize the need to save Buzzards Bay," said Mrs. Schlothauer. Funds raised from the 95 people attending and others who contributed will be used in the Coalition's public education and advocacy work in the communities surrounding the Bay. With the recent release of the nation's first management plan for any estuary, the Coalition sees its work over the next several years as helping to create the climate for public acceptance of the action steps set forth in the Buzzards Bay Project document.

Mr. Buchwald treated the guests to a continuing string of humorous stories and jokes but lapsed into seriousness occasionally. He remarked, "We on the island are trying to save the water with the same fervor as you folks are." Urging the Coalition to continue the fight for clean water, he said, "The people dumping sewage are not at these dinners. Congratulate yourselves for the work you've done, but continue the battle tomorrow morning."

Before rushing off to catch the ferry back to the Vineyard, Mr. Buchwald accepted the Coalition's "Guardian Award", given for "outstanding service in the stewardship

Mayflower II in Full Sail

FIRST TIME IN NEARLY 30 YEARS

With her new colors giving her a richer, brighter countenance, Mayflower II, the reproduction of the merchant ship which brought America's most famous immigrants, the Pilgrims, to Plymouth, will be setting sail in open waters for the first time in nearly 30 years on Wednesday, September 5th, at 8 a.m. as part of the Festival of Sails.

Leading the procession from the State Pier in Plymouth will be the Massachusetts Commissioned Schooner Ernestina, the last vessel to bring immigrants to America under sail. An official escort fleet, being provided in conjunction with the Captain John Boats of Plymouth, will follow.

Officials of Plimoth Plantation, the museum which owns and exhibits Mayflower II, felt that with her relatively new sails and completely overhauled rigging, the time had come for the ship to complete her regular Fall turnaround with a little more fanfare. "We have a ship which sailed across the Atlantic in 1957, and is in fine sailing condition today. It seemed the time had come to begin showing the world this beautiful symbol once again under sail - the way people imagine her to be", said David Case, Plimoth Plantation president.

While the Schooner Ernestina will leave the harbor under sail, Mayflower II will be led from State Pier under tow. Once out of the inner harbor her crew of 20, all dressed in authentic 17th century attire, will begin to loosen her rigging and weather permitting set her sails. The approximate time for her to be in full sail is 9:45 a.m.

Again, based on the weather, Mayflower II will be dropping the tow line and sail out beyond Gurnet Light in Cape Cod Bay. For a brief period of time, all guests aboard her will be asked to go below decks to allow the shooting of period-authentic footage, giving onlookers a dramatic opportunity to capture what it might have looked like that day in 1620 when Mayflower entered Plymouth with her travel-weary crew and passengers.

Tickets are available aboard the Captain John Boats by contacting Plimoth Plantation. These are the only boats which will be permitted within the "safety zone" designated by the U.S. Coast Guard. Those with private boats may anchor alongside the course selected for this event, but will be prohibited from the actual path. All the Captain John boats have a flat upper deck which will provide, according to Case, "an ideal vantage point for watching or picture-taking".

The regatta is scheduled to return to State Pier by noon, where a brief ceremony will take place at the waterfront. The new students.

Orientation helps to make the transition to college smoother, according to Debbie Lawton, director of student activities and co-chair of the New Student Orientation committee. "We make the day a fun and informative overview of what new students can expect in the weeks to come", she said. "Everything introduces students to important information about BCC."

"It's a chance for students to meet some of their professors and fellow students before the rest of the semester begins", she added.

The programming gives new students inside information about succeeding at college, said Ms. Lawton. "Students meet their academic advisors and program directors, as well as participate in a workshop that covers a specific issue", she said. "Students can take a tour of the Learning Resource Center, learn more about financial aid, how to fight test anxiety, and many more. Sixteen workshops are available."

The best part about Orientation, Ms. Lawton said, is the participation of faculty, staff and returning students. "That's a real example of our community spirit", she said. "Student groups will provide the entertainment at our picnic, for example.

NON-CREDIT CLASSES-REGISTRATION

Registration for a whole range of non-credit classes is now open at Bristol Community College.

Non-credit classes, offered by the Division of Continuing Education, give participants a low-pressure opportunity to learn something new, according to Ruth Sherman, assistant dean of continuing education and community services.

There are even non-credit classes for children, Ms. Sherman said.

Non-credit classes begin the week of September 10th at BCC's Fall River campus and at satellite locations at Attleboro High School, Greater New Bedford Vocational-Technical High School, Apponequet High School and Taunton High School. For course listings call in Massachusetts toll-free, 1-800-462-0035.

Continuing Education courses, including non-credit offerings, are not funded by the state.

NEW PROGRAM DIRECTOR

Mary Cohen, new program director at the YWCA, took a round-about journey in arriving in New Bedford. Born in New Jersey, educated at the University of Southern Florida, Tampa, and director of a health club in New York, Mary now lives in the city with her 18 months old daughter and her husband whose new employment brought them to the area.

Mary, who majored in physical education and has undertaken graduate study in sports medicine, will have primary responsibility for the fitness and youth/adult enrichment programs at the YW.

Some of these programs reflect YWCA successes from the past - numerous fitness options are available, including aerobics, calisthenics, swimming and a walking club. The Body Shop, the circuits of fitness tables designed to work specific muscle groups, body wraps, sauna and massage will continue as well as other adult arts and crafts, bridge lessons and recreation.

Along with a variety of classes and clubs for youth, a basketball clinic has been scheduled as has a new Kid's Night Out, a twice monthly Friday night event. A Playful Parenting program is planned and specials, such as a Halloween Haunted House, a Santa's Workshop and Christmas vacation camp-in, will be held. Various other child-care and entertainment programs are also available.

"Eventually, I'd like to extend the fitness programs," Mrs. Cohen adds, "and have more programs that offer involvement for youth. One possible direction might be a pairing between the local high schools' athletes and YWCA participants. It gives them a sense of direction and something to strive for", she says.

Mrs. Cohen brings a strong sports and physical education background to the YWCA and, through her unique background and talents, she continues to improve and innovate the organization's offerings.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE FOR ANDERSON PAYMENTS?

Veterans and their surviving spouses who have received or are receiving VA protected pensions and who receive or have been denied supplmental security income (SSI) benefits: You may be due SSI money because of a court case called ANDERSON. The Anderson case says that the Social Security Administration (SSA) can only count, as your income, VA benefits that are for you in determining your eligibility for SSI and your payment amount. VA benefits for your spouse and children do not count as your income.

If you received any type of protected VA benefits (Section 306 or old law) between November 1982 and now, and have been denied SSI benefits, or your SSI benefit was less because SSA counted VA benefits for your spouse or children as your income, contact any Social Security office or call toll-free, 1-800-234-5772.

Tell the person you talk to that you saw an Anderson notice.

SSI pays benefits to aged, blind and disabled people who have little or no income and resources. Not all income and resources count in determining if you are eligible. To find out if you may be eligible contact Social Security.

eye talk

Q. I'VE HEARD THAT PEOPLE WHO USE VIDEO DISPLAY TERMINALS ALL DAY SHOULD TAKE REST BREAKS. HOW OFTEN AND FOR HOW LONG SHOULD I TAKE A BREAK?

A. Rest breaks are important for VDT users because VDT work generally requires intense concentration on the screen and hard copy.

The National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) recommends a 15-minute alternate task break every hour for those under high visual demands, such as data entry persons, and every two hours for those who spend no more than 60 percent of their time looking at a VDT screen.

Rest breaks should be spent focusing the eyes into the distance, perhaps across the room or out a window, or doing tasks requiring minimum visual effort. Runing an office errand to another part of the building or conferring with a colleague are two such tasks.

If rest breaks do not eliminate any eyestrain symptoms you are suffering, such as burning or tired eyes, headaches or blurred vision, seek a thorough eye examination. Your eyes may need help on the job.

David Loeffler Smith is a painter with a national reputation. A student of both the legendary Hans Hofmann and Stefan Hirsch, Mr. Smith received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Bard College and his Master of Fine Arts degree at the Cranbrook Academy of Fine Arts. In 1961 he won the Henry Posner Prize from the Carnegie Institute. He has had nine solo exhibitions in New York City at such important galleries as M-13 and the First Street Gallery. In 1982 he had a major retrospective of his work at the former William W. Crapo Gallery, Swain School of Design.

In 1962 Mr. Smith came to New Bedford as Director of the Swain School of Design. Since that time he was a member of the faculty, Dean, Admissions Director, Chairman of the Painting Department and a Trustee of the College. He is now a Professor in the Painting Department at the College of Visual and Performing Arts, Southeastern Massachusetts University as a result of the merger between the University and the Swain School of Design.
